Sir

At the Sessions for the City of Winchester held by me on Monday last, I felt it necessary to pass a sentence of transportation for several reason on Harriet Broad for stealing wearing apparel, and I must not omit to state that she had also been previously convicted and sentenced by myself for larceny in the year 1839, and also for larceny at the County Sessions in the year 1840 by Sir William Heathcote. Under these circumstances I felt that I ought not to suffer her to remain at large in this City on the expiration of her sentence.

But her father and mother who are poor people (and when on enquiring I find to be highly respectable people) have been earnestly Petitioning me to get her disposed of in some other manner. The prisoner is twenty one years old, and of an age when it is hoped she might be reclaimed and under these circumstances I venture to suggest to Lord Normanby whether she might not be a fit subject for the Penitentiary.

I remain

Very faithfully your

Philip Williams

Recorder
