

Mary Bloomfield ID 1150 per Frances Charlotte 1833

In Van Diemen's Land

The applicant states that the prisoner who now married in the Colony is now a Widow with 2 children and that her father who is a respectable man, is anxious for her return to this country

Sir,

MARY BLOMFIELD was sentenced to 14 years transportation at the Chelmsford Assizes in March 1832 for robbing her Master. She has been married and is now a Widow in Van Diemen's Land with her two children. Her father who is a respectable man in this neighbourhood is very anxious for her return. Her name is now MARY BROWN and she resides at Upper Carlton near Hobart Town in Van Diemen's Land.

I take the liberty of enquiring, if you could assist the father in obtaining his wishes, and with an apology for this intrusion.

Your obedient servant
